

A delightful documentary by Divya Cowasji and Shilpa Gupta that explores the history of the Parsi community and strives to understand the Zoroastrian faith. The focus on the Parsis yields an endearing portrait of the small community who lives large through its philosophy to life, laugh, and love. Documentary will be followed by a live interview with directors from India via Webex.

Also Featuring:

ONLINE EXHIBITION

Parsi Zoroastrians: The first exhibition on Google Cultural Institute.

A guided etour by Meheryar Rivetna

Date: Friday, December 5, 2014

Time: 6:00 p.m. - Meet & Greet

7: 00 p.m - Show time

Cost: FREE

(pakoras, chip & dip and wine will be served)

Donations to ZAH Library are always welcome!